DETAILED ACTIONDouble Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

1. Claims 1, 3 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of double patenting over claim 1 of U. S. Patent No. 6727496 since the claims, if allowed, would improperly extend the "right to exclude" already granted in the patent.
2. Claim 2 is rejected under the judicially created doctrine of double patenting over claim 5 of U. S. Patent No. 6727496 since the claims, if allowed, would improperly extend the "right to exclude" already granted in the patent.

The subject matter claimed in the instant application is fully disclosed in the patent and is covered by the patent since the patent and the application are claiming common subject matter.

Furthermore, there is no apparent reason why applicant was prevented from presenting claims corresponding to those of the instant application during prosecution of the application which matured into a patent. See In re Schneller, 397 F.2d 350, 158 USPQ 210 (CCPA 1968). See also MPEP § 804.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Miller et al. (US 6512224).

Miller et al. discloses a system for identification of compounds in a mixture based on ion mobility, the system comprising:

a pair of substrates (FIG. 4, elements 52, 54), said substrates mated together facing each other over a gap (FIG. 4: The space between elements 52 and 54), said substrates forming at least one radial flow path in said gap (FIG. 2), ion filter electrodes on said substrates facing each other over said gap and defining at least one ion filter (FIG. 1, 2, 4, elements 20, 22), and ions representing compounds in a mixture being filtered by said ion filter according to mobility characteristics as the ions travel radially along said flow path between said filter electrodes in said gap, ion species having said characteristics passing radially through said filter (Abstract).

Referring to claim 2: wherein said filter filters ion species based on differences in ion mobility, wherein said substrates define at least one filter electrode on each substrate facing each other over said gap in said radial flow path and wherein said flow path accommodates said flow of said ions, said ions traveling in said radial flow path between said filter electrodes (FIG. 8, elements 20a, 22a), selected species of said ions being passed by said ion filter according to differences in ion mobility behavior, said passed species traveling radially in said flow path out of said filter for detection (FIG. 8).

Referring to claim 3: further comprising a spacer, said gap being defined by said spacer (FIG. 4, element 56a-b).
